News Flash from Generation Cures!

Have you heard about Project Good Gift? It's an awesome way for kids and grown-ups to help sick children around the world.

If you give up just one of your gifts this holiday season, you might help save another kid's life! Really!

That's why we started Project Good Gift. It's your chance to give up a gift so your parents, grandparents, other relatives, or friends can give a donation to Generation Cures instead.

Best of all, Good Gift donations will go towards helping researchers find cures for kids' diseases.

Yeah! That's the kind of giving that makes everyone feel good – you, your Good Gift sponsor, and the sick kids around the world.

You in? Great!
